When Fitzroy was a 'Social Laboratory' A Decade of Change 1973-1983

Anna Fratta Community Worker in charge of Fitzroy Advisory Service 1974-1980
Jenny Wills - Social Planner with the City of Fitzroy 1974-1981
Derryn Wilson - Social Worker for Aged Services 1975-1983 supported by a cast of councillors, administrators and activists of the City of Fitzroy in those years.

Fitzroy is one of the very few councils (perhaps the only one) deliberately to favour welfare policies even at the cost of public works: 'people' are held to be more important than cars or the roads they travel on. - Margaret Bowman, Victoria in Local Government Systems of Australia, 1981
